Enjoy comfort and events in London and Edinburgh

London Club in Grade 1 listed building offers joining fee discount

The Royal Over-Seas League is a non profit making mutual society situated a few minutes walk from the Royal Academy. It has a long history of welcoming artists and gallery enthusiasts as members and holds its own exhibitions for promising young artists from Commonwealth countries.

The London clubhouse, comprising Vernon House and Rutland House (Grade 1 listed), is in a prime location bordering Green Park and near the Ritz Hotel. It has a private garden, al fresco dining, restaurant, butty for light meals, bar, drawing room, 80 air-conditioned bedrooms and seven conference and private dining rooms. The Edinburgh clubhouse is centrally situated at 100 Princes Street with bedrooms, bar, restaurant and family flat.

In addition to economical central London pricing, ROSL offers a variety of events programme, inter-club younger members’ group, quarterly journal, in-house art exhibitions and concerts, and short term access to over 60 other clubs around the world in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, Hong Kong, Malaysia, India, Pakistan, South Africa, Kenya, Gibraltar, Ireland, Spain, USA and elsewhere.

Specially discounted joining fees for RA Magazine readers range from £59.00 to £138.50 depending on place of residence. Annual subscriptions range from £80.00 – £277.00 and are effective from 1 November of the preceding year for new members if wished.
