Program Committee

The Program Committee is chaired by Program Chairs, who select the committee and coordinate the paper reviewing and selection process. Neither the Program Chairs nor the General Chairs will submit papers to the conference.

Area Chairs will decide on acceptance or rejection of papers, based on at least three reviews, and authors' rebuttals to these reviews.

The reviewers and ACs will flag papers which they consider as possible orals. Among those, the ACs aided by the PBs will make a final, well-calibrated selection of the orals. The PCs are responsible for putting together the final program.
