

PROGRAM

International Water History Association

Delft University of Technology

JUNE 24-26 2015
DELFT, THE NETHERLANDS

	Parallel session 6.3 Frans van Hasseltzaal	Water history and remote sensing I Chair: Kristen Hopper Jotheri, Allen and Wilkinson - Dujaila palaeocanal in Southern Mesopotamia: A major canal with a large number of associated settlements Moger - Field Systems at Manaqi (Rustaq, Oman): Developments in Agricultural Techniques Kalayci - Rain-fed Agricultural Production in Upper Mesopotamia during Early Bronze Age: A Strictly Remote Sensing Perspective
	Parallel session 6.4 Senaatszaal	Theory of water Chair: Simo Laakkonen Spitzbart and Hauer - Hybrid Waters and Urban Spaces: a Conceptual and Methodological Approach to Energetic Water Use Schönach - River histories of the 19th and 20th century: conceptual approaches used in recent literature Klaver - Meander and Metis: toward an environmental imagination
15.30	Coffee and tea break
16.00	Parallel session 7.1 Commissie-kamer 2	Governance III Chair: Erik Mostert Van Tielhof - Environmental degradation and institutional change in Holland in the sixteenth century Tigrino - Conflicts on water management and environmental transformations in a municipal landscape (18th - 21th c.) Roberts - The Private Commons: Oystering in Nineteenth Century Connecticut
	Parallel session 7.2 Commissie-kamer 3	Environmental change Chair: Matthew Bender Lisy-Wagner - "Aquaculture and the Construction of Fishponds in Sixteenth-Century Bohemia" He, Wang and Huang - The Study of Surface Water Environmental Change of the Mu Us Desert During Historic Times Jeffery - "Keep the Reserve Intact! A History of the Protection of the Bull Run Watershed Management Unit." Summers – "When is a lake not a lake"